Nominations for 2017 Antitrust Writing Awards Now Open

Antitrust Connect Editor · Sunday, November 20th, 2016

The Antitrust Writing Awards (AWAs) are a joint initiative between Concurrences Review and the George Washington University Law School. Nominations for the 2017 AWAs are now open. For the 6th consecutive year, Concurrences Review has brought together an impressive jury panel consisting of antitrust enforcers, professors, and in-house counsels to select the Best Articles and Best Soft Laws published and released in 2016.

The present Call for Nominations concerns 3 types of publications:

- Best Articles: Articles published or accepted for publication in 2016, in both academic journals and professional magazines.
- Best Soft Law: Most innovative non-enforcement tools issued by competition agencies in 2016, such as guidelines, market studies, white books, etc.
- Best Newsletters: Leading antitrust newsletters published by law firms that stand out for coverage, contents, readership or innovation.

To nominate an Article, Soft Law or Newsletter, email a PDF version or a link to the relevant publication(s) to awards@concurrences.com and indicate in the subject line: “Antitrust Writing Awards 2017: Submission.”

The Editorial Committee will select 100 Articles, 30 Soft Law and 30 Newsletters.

Winners will be invited to attend the Gala Dinner on March 28, 2017 in Washington, DC in the presence of the Board and Steering Committee Members. To see the full list of Jury Members, click here.

Deadline for submission is December 1, 2016. Interested authors may simply e-mail links to or PDFs of their articles to awards@concurrences.com for consideration.
